

The Maslow's Hierarchy of Needs relates to my experience with technology varies on different times in my life. As a child I believe I could put technology in the 2nd pillar. Growing up as an only child and having your parents separated at a young age needing a distraction helped. Middle and high school I would put it the 3rd pillar. A lot of my friends played video games and that was a way I built relationships. At this current time, I would put technology under the 1st pillar. I cannot provide for myself and my family without using and understanding technology. Also, at this time I can put technology in the 4th pillar. Completing my college classes fills that need. Lastly, in the future once my college degree is finished that will start the last pillar of needs for me.
